Introduction to Denmark

Population: 5.5 million people

Capital: Copenhagen. Very much worth a visit before or after the course.

Other cities of interest: Aarhus (largest city in Jutland) and Odense (the birth place of world famous writer Hans Christian Andersen).

Time: CET (GMT+1). Danish people are considered extremely punctual, which foreigners often have a hard time getting used to. If you are to meet someone, then it's not 5-10 minutes later but precisely at that time. So Spanish/Greek/Italian... Prepare yourself! ☺

Language: Danish. But most people speak rather good English. Many people do also speak either one or more of following: German, Spanish or French.

Money:

Denmark

is part of EU, but not part of the euro-project, so you will have to get some Danish kroner (DKK) before getting here. The coins and notes look like the one in the photo to the left. There are exchanging bureaus in the airport in Copenhagen and there is a Forex in Aalborg. Also, you can find ATMs almost everywhere.

Prices: In Denmark we have Danish kroner. As a rule of thumb, 1 Euro is approximately equal to 7.5 DKK.

- Bank notes fractions are: 50, 100, 200, 500, and 1000 DKK.
- Coin fractions are: 0.5, 1, 2, 5, 10, and 20 DKK.

Denmark is considered a rather expensive country to live in – especially when you come from Southern or Eastern Europe. Now you know! ☺

Below we have listed the prices for some of the things, you may find necessary to buy while you are here:

- 1 Beer in a pub: 20-50 DKK, in a supermarket: 4-6 DKK
- 1 Pack (20) of cigarettes: 32 DKK
- 1 Bottle of Coca-Cola (1.5L) in a supermarket: 20 DKK
- 1 Ice cream: 10-25 DKK
- 1 sandwich: 25-50 DKK
- 1 McDonalds Big Mac menu: 60 DKK
- 1 Bus ticket: 22 DKK

Weather: The Danish weather can be quite tricky. It may change from totally nice sunshine to rain (liquid sunshine) in a matter of minutes, so it is important to be prepared with a water repellent jacket or similar. During the summer we may get temperatures around 25°C, but there is always the risk that it will be raining the next day, so better be prepared for it. Also it is usually quite windy. Usually, the temperature is around 20°C. You can check the weather forecast for Denmark before leave, here:

<http://www.dmi.dk/eng/index/forecasts.htm>

Electricity: Like most of Europe Denmark has 230 V @ 50 Hz. In the below photo you can see some of the sockets.

... And Aalborg

Back in 900 A.D. Aalborg was just a big marketplace. 100 years later some of the marketing men started to build small houses. The king demanded a small church and a coin shop to be build; this tells us much about the interesting of this specific marketplace....BOOOORING!!!

Today Aalborg is the 4. biggest city in Denmark with a population of 120,000, and yes that is a big city in Denmark.

Population: 120,000 people.

Geography: Aalborg is situated on the southern side of the Limfjord (the river that more or less actually separates Denmark into two parts, but these are kept together by a whole lot of bridges). On the other side of the Limfjord (where the airport is situated), you find Nørresundby, and if you are a local there is a bit of rivalry between these two parts of the city. Anyway, the view from the bridge is quite stunning and worth the walk.

Attractions: The City Centre, Aalborghus Castle, Tower of Aalborg, Kunsten (North Jutland Museum of Art), Utzon Centre, Aalborg Zoo, Jomfru Ane Gade (legendary bar street), Nordkraft (cultural centre), Aalborg Monestary, Lindholm Høje (Viking museum) and many more... We are looking forward to showing you our city! ☺

Also see the official tourist website for Aalborg for more information on attractions:

<http://www.visitaalborg.com/In-int/aalborg/tourist>

A view from the city centre, a night view from the Limfjords bridge, and a view over the western part of the city.

Beer: As you may already know, Aalborg has a famous bar street (Jomfru Ane Gade). But not to be forgotten, Aalborg also has many smaller pubs. A favorite among these is the Tempo Bar situated at Vesterbro, the main street of Aalborg. Below an article written by one of the fantastic members of our BEST group is featured.

Enjoy! ☺

Time Line

The oh-so-short timeline of the most remarkable points in history of Denmark until now are illustrated in the figure below. A more detailed description of the Danish history can be found on http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/History_of_Denmark :

year 1389-1412

Danish queen Margrethe the 1st is the first female monarch and reigns over Denmark, Norway and Sweden, that she united in the Chalmers Union.

approx. year 1000

Loong time ago all Danes were Vikings, who killed and ruled in Scandinavia. Danes like to be remembered as the Vikings we once were.

1849

The Danish Constitution is agreed on and signed by king Frederik the 7th.

1969

Denmark was the first country to legalize porn.

2005

We drew the cartoons of Mohammad.

WW II

Many years later in 1940 Denmark fought against Germany in WW 2. We fought only for 2 hours before we surrendered with a massive loss of 13 soldiers.

The day the Germans left Denmark 1945 (April 5) is celebrated by putting lit candles in the windows.

1992

Denmark wins the European Championship in football

The legendary BEST SC in Aalborg takes place.!

The Danish Kitchen

In Denmark we eat a lot, we are planning to become the fattest nation, but we still can't beat the USA ☺ .

We use to eat our three main meals in these hours:

Breakfast 7.00 – 8.00

Lunch 12.00 – 13.00

Dinner 18.00 – 19.00

And then we eat some small meals in between.

For breakfast we eat:

- Different kinds of bread with jam, butter, cheese or something different.
- Cereals with milk.
- Coffee or Tea.
- Danish pastry.

A typical Danish lunch is:

- Rye bread or black bread with some kind of cold meat (salami, liver pâté, cheese spread, mackerel etc.)
- Or with some other bread with cold meat.

For dinner it is typical Danish to eat potatoes and sauce with different meat:

- Danish meat balls from pork.
- Hamburger, from beef
- Cumberland sausage, from pork.

In the evening we have a little piece of cake or snack, so don't worry you won't go hungry to bed.

Language School

Danish is very difficult to pronounce. We have those weird letters: Æ Ø Å, of which the two last are actually also words in themselves.

Danes are often told that they have a potato in their mouth while speaking, so when you practice the sentences below, you might try it with a potato in your mouth ... or something the same size ☺

The University

AAU is short for Aalborg University.

At AAU we dare to be different! A characteristic feature of AAU is the courage to follow new paths within research as well as education. This can be seen in the problem based learning, which is used at AAU and is internationally recognized as 'The Aalborg Model'.

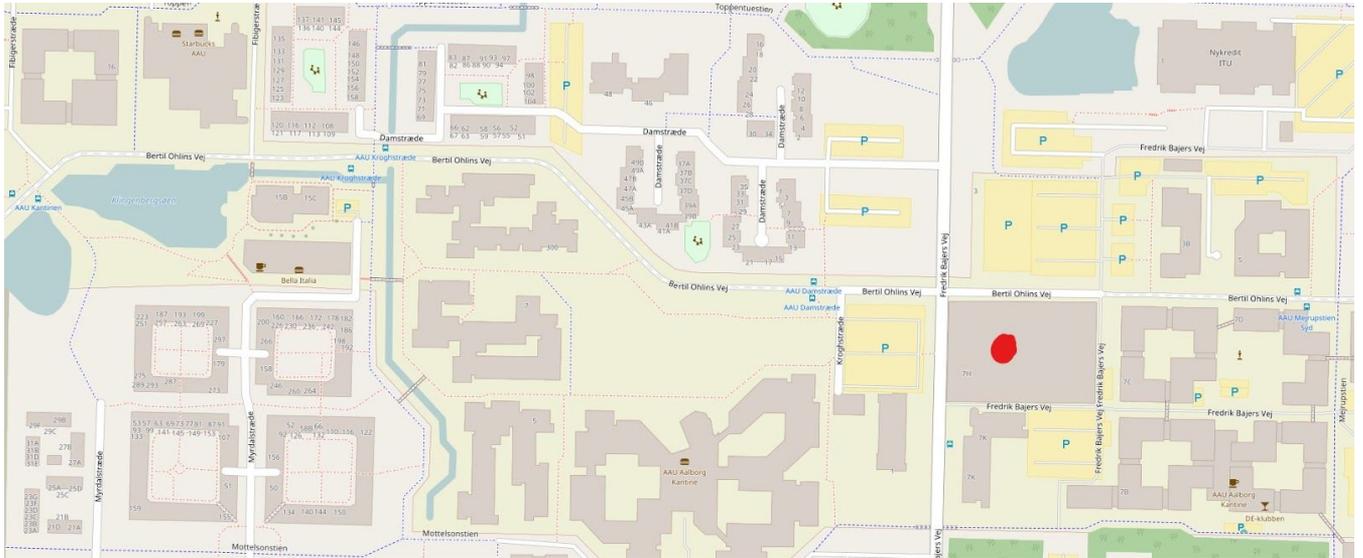

Aalborg University was inaugurated in 1974 and today close to 14,000 students are enrolled at Aalborg University, which includes students at preparatory courses to doctoral-level candidates. Of these, 12.5% are international students.

Further information about AAU is available at:

<http://en.aau.dk/About+Aalborg+University>

A map of the campus ground can be seen below. You will have lectures at the red dot. ☺

An app with a map over campus is available on the app store: AAU map

Arriving in Aalborg from: CPH, Billund, or Aalborg Airport

Going by plane to Aalborg:

If you arrive at Aalborg Airport, you can take a bus to the city. The airport is very small so you will easily find the bus. The bus stop is practically just outside the main entrance. You have to take bus line 2 towards Aalborg. This bus can also take you all the way to the university.

More info about the airport can be found here: <http://www.aal.dk/default.asp?PageID=132>

The price for going to the city center and the accommodation is 22 dkk. The ticket is valid for 1 hour.

It is possible to buy the ticket onboard the bus, just tell the bus driver that you need a ticket for the city center or Gug. It is only possible to pay in cash with DKK.

If you are arriving at Copenhagen by plane, and then going by another plane to Aalborg, you will have to go to terminal 1 (domestic terminal). There are free shuttle buses leaving every 10 minutes, but it is also possible to walk even though it is a bit far. If you do not have to re-check in your luggage etc. you may stay inside the transfer zone, and then just walk to terminal 1.

KLM flies directly from Amsterdam to Aalborg.

Going by plane to Copenhagen and train to Aalborg:

From Copenhagen you can take the train directly to Aalborg. It is a long trip and takes between 4 hours 19 minutes and 5 hours depending on the type of train.

The price for a train ticket to Aalborg is 438 DKK. It is probably cheaper to buy Interrail tickets, especially if you want to travel after the course. ☺

Note that bus is also an option, a company 'Abildskou' can get you tickets to Aalborg from about 200 kr sometimes cheaper, however it might be more troublesome to get a spot.

Going by plane to Billund and bus/train to Aalborg:

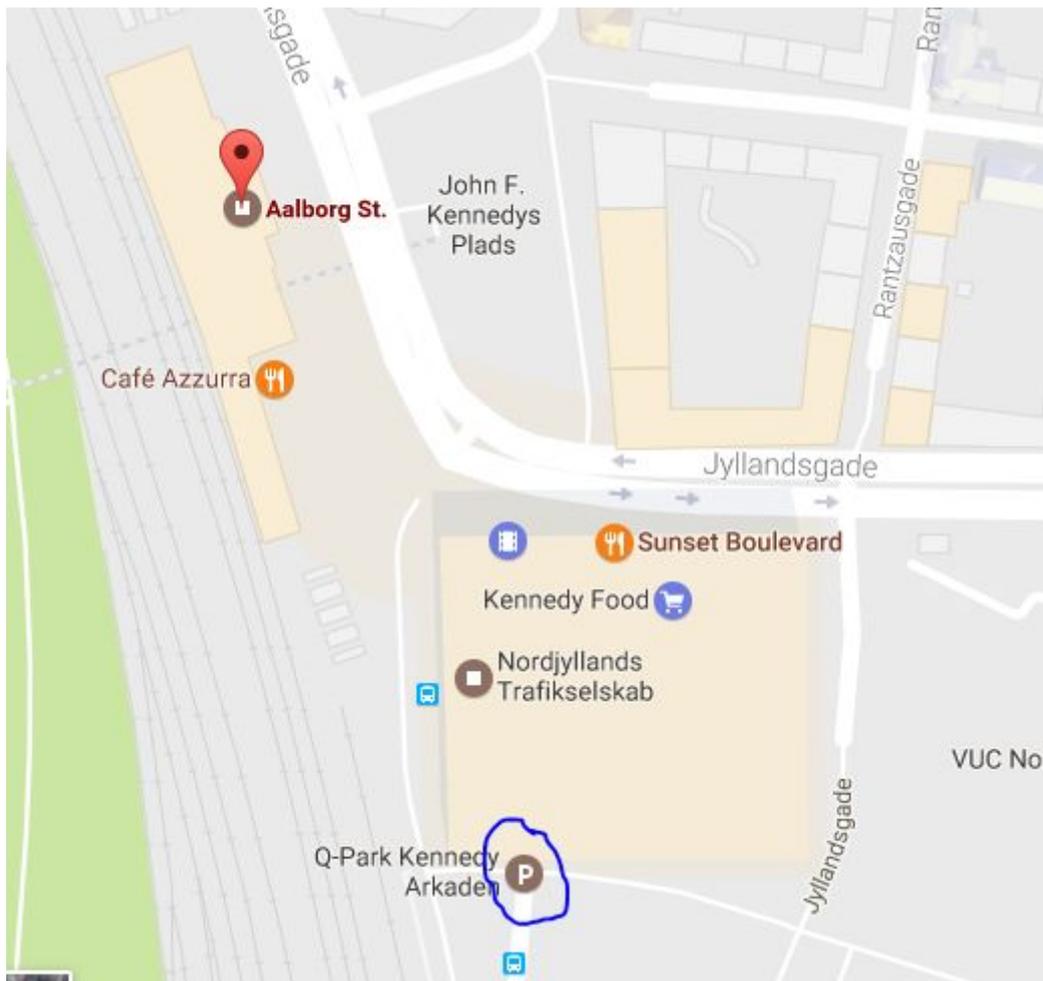

From Billund you can take the bus number 244 or 907X towards Vejle. In Vejle you have to go to the train station and take the train towards Aalborg. The trip in total is between 3 and 4 hours.

The price for a train ticket to Aalborg is 295 DKK (just like if you come from Copenhagen it will probably be cheaper to buy Interrail tickets, especially if you want to travel after the course ☺).

All prices above are prices for one person and based on the prices in Denmark in February. It might be possible to find cheaper ways of traveling. A good place to look for detailed descriptions of travels in Denmark is:

<http://www.journeyplanner.dk/>

Arrival in Aalborg

When entering Aalborg by train, you will end up by red marker, from here you can head to the blue circle, where the bus station is (if traveling by bus to Aalborg you will end up here of course). Be aware of the signs you pass as there is an A, B, C area. Which you will need to use when using the boards with departures, do not worry it is not that difficult ☺

You can take bus 2 and 12 towards the university.

PAX will give you more details when the exact meeting spot and time is known, fear not :)

Travel in Aalborg

There are several ways to the university from the station, and we highly highly highly recommend using: <http://www.journeyplanner.dk/>

The app is also available from both android and iPhone, simply type "rejseplanen"

An example:

The screenshot shows the Journey Planner app interface. At the top, there are input fields for 'From:' (Aalborg St), 'Outward:' (24.01.17), and 'At:' (13:00). There are also radio buttons for 'Departure' and 'Arrival'. Below these is a 'To:' field (Aalborg Universitet) and a 'Find journey' button. A search bar below contains the text 'Advanced options - via-stop, means of transportation, bike transportation, walking distances ...'. The main results section shows the route details: 'From: Aalborg St', 'To: Aalborg Universitet', and 'Tuesday, 24.01.17 - Departure 13:00'. Below this is a table with columns for 'Dep.', 'Arr.', 'Time', 'Changes', 'Means of transport', 'See details', and 'Buy'. Three routes are listed, each with a 'DETAILS' button and a 'TARIFFS & TICKETS' button.

Dep.	Arr.	Time	Changes	Means of transport	See details	Buy
13:07	13:27	0:20	0	walk + Bus 2	DETAILS	TARIFFS & TICKETS
13:08	13:28	0:20	0	walk + Bus 2	DETAILS	TARIFFS & TICKETS
13:13	13:36	0:23	0	walk + Bus 12	DETAILS	TARIFFS & TICKETS

with details button extended:

The screenshot displays a journey planner interface with the following details:

- Header: Shows the start time 13:07, end time 13:27, a duration of 0:20, and a cost of 0. It includes icons for 'walk' and 'Bus 2', a 'HIDE' button, and a 'TARIFFS & TICKETS' link.
- Options: Four buttons for notification preferences: 'Get notifications about changes', 'Send journey to e-mail', 'Send journey to mobile (SMS)', and 'Send journey to your calendar'.
- Travel Plan:
 - Start: Depart from Aalborg St. (marked with 'A').
 - Leg 1: 13:07 (dep) - 13:09 (arr) via walk (approx. 2 min.).
 - Leg 2: 13:09 (dep) - 13:27 (arr) via take Bus 2 towards AAU Busterminal (Sigrid Undsetsvej / Aalborg).
 - End: Arrive at AAU Busterminal (Sigrid Undsetsvej / Aalborg) (marked with 'B').
- Additional Info: A note for the bus leg states 'Departures in this direction every 6 min.'.
- Actions: 'Show as list', 'Show on map', and 'Print details' buttons are available.

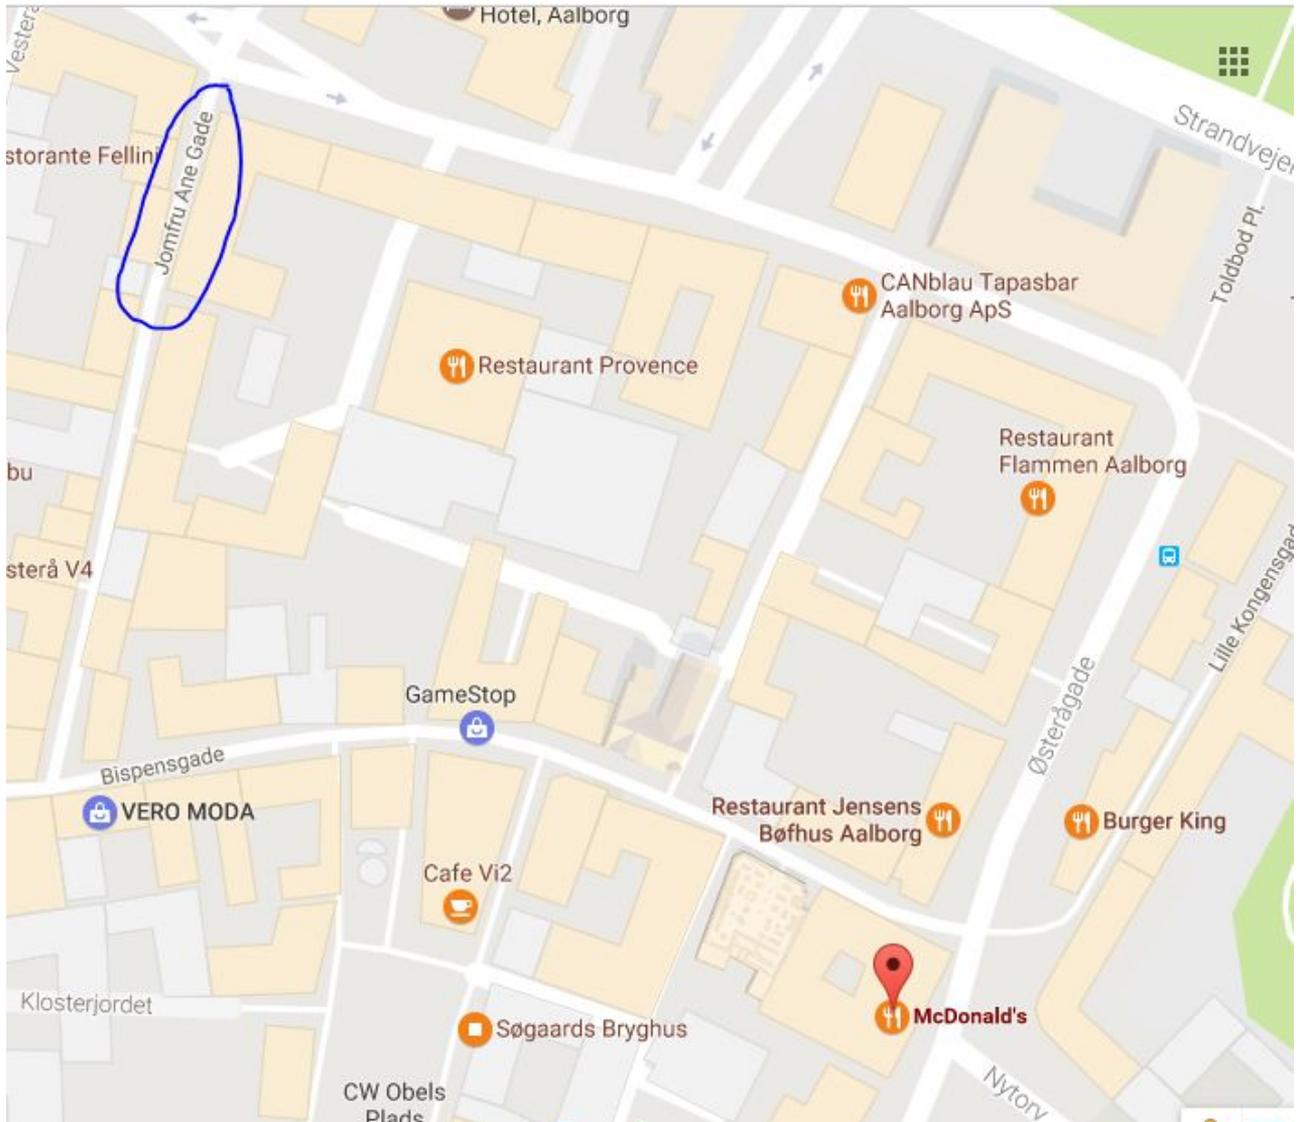

You can travel around in Aalborg by bus or taxi.

Taxi in Denmark is expensive; the price from the city to the university or the accommodation for the first days is about 20 Euros.

Phone number to Aalborg taxi: +45 98 10 10 10

The easiest way to go from the center to the University is by bus number 2; the price is 22 DKK.

From Jomfru Ane Gade to university:

You should definitely visit Jomfru Ane Gade (blue circle) , while you are here, but make sure you know how to get home!

Generally there are busses driving from “Østerågade” the street where McD is, look at the red marker, as well as “Nytorv” which you can see on the map. The bus stops can be easily seen from McD front entrance.

Make sure to consult the <http://www.journeyplanner.dk/> or the app, before you go as the busses will stop coming at some point, and you will have to wait to about 8:00 before there is a another bus!

Note: PAX will send you an overview of when the last busses are going home during the week when the bus schedule for the summer is available.
